

MUZIUM KOTA KUALA KEDAH

KOTA KUALA KEDAH MUSEUM

1 PENGENALAN

INTRODUCTION

Muzium kota Muzium Kuala Kedah telah ditubuhkan di tapak sejarah yang penting dalam abad ke-16 hingga ke-18 Masihi. Ia dikenali sebagai pusat pentadbiran, perdagangan dan kubu Kesultanan Melayu Kedah.

Bangunan muzium yang dibina pada tahun 1922 ini pernah dijadikan pusat pentadbiran, pendidikan dan mahkamah pada zaman British serta pusat latihan tentera pada zaman pendudukan Jepun. Muzium ini telah dibuka secara rasmi pada 6 Jun 1999.

Kota Kuala Kedah Museum was established on an important historical site during the 16th to 18th CE. It was known as the centre for administration, trade and fortress of the Kedah's Malay Sultanate.

The building which houses the museum was built in 1909 and once was used as the court house as well as administration and education centre during the British period. During the Japanese occupation, it was used as military training centre. This museum was officially opened on June 6, 1999.

2 KOLEKSI COLLECTION

Muzium Kota Kuala Kedah memperagakan 58 koleksi artifak yang terdiri daripada artifak arkeologi, seramik dan batu-bata asal kota. Koleksi menarik yang dipamerkan di Muzium Kota Kuala Kedah ialah 13 buah peluru meriam dan enam buah meriam buatan Inggeris yang berusia lebih 100 tahun. Selain itu, terdapat artifak yang dipanggil 'Pelita' ditemukan semasa penyelidikan arkeologi dan kerja-kerja konservasi tembok timur berhampiran pintu gerbang Kacapuri.

The Kota Kuala Kedah Museum displays a collection of 58 artefacts comprising archaeological artefacts, ceramics, original bricks from the fort including 13 cannon balls and six British cannons that are over hundred years old. Apart from that, there is also an earthenware artefact known as 'Pelita', which was discovered during an archaeological research and conservation works on the east wall near to the Kacapuri archway.

PINTU GERBANG KACAPURI

Pintu Gerbang Kacapuri dibina semasa pemerintahan Sultan Muhammad Jiwa Zainal Adilin Muazzam Shah II (1710-1778) yang mempunyai pengaruh seni bina India telah menjadi tarikan utama pengunjung untuk melawat Muzium Kota Kuala Kedah. Pintu Gerbang ini adalah pintu masuk utama ke dalam kota dan dipercayai bersambung terus dengan istana pada ketika itu. Pada tahun 1970, pintu gerbang ini telah runtuh dan mengalami kerosakan akibat dipukul ribut, namun telah didirikan semula oleh pihak Muzium pada tahun 2000 mengikut ukuran sebenar.

KACAPURI GATE / ARCHWAY

The Kacapuri gate / archway was built during the reign of Sultan Muhammad Jiwa Zainal Adilin Muazzam Shah II (1710 – 1778) which has influenced by Indian architecture has become the main attraction for visitors to visit the Kota Kuala Kedah Museum. It was the main entrance into the city and is believed to have a direct connection to the palace at the time. In 1970, the gate collapsed and suffered a lot of damage as a result of being battered by a storm, but was reconstructed again by the Museum in 2000 using its actual measurements. The gate's unique.
